

Adjunct Professors (Remote)
Theology, Biblical Studies, Church History, Pastoral Studies

Carey Theological College extends a call for applications for remote Adjunct Faculty positions for individuals with a deep commitment to discipleship. We seek seasoned pastors, with a PhD or DMin, to guide graduate students in Theology, Biblical Studies, Church History, and Pastoral Studies online. As a distinctive seminary, Carey is pioneering accessible theological education globally, removing financial and geographical barriers.

In this role, you'll mentor students into a deep understanding of their identity in Christ and be an example of how to fulfill the Great Commission within their ministries. Your charge will include equipping them to initiate and rejuvenate churches, to broaden impactful ministries globally, and, above all, to make disciples. We prize innovative educators eager to challenge conventional andragogy and elevate the caliber of student spiritual formation.

Situated in Vancouver, Canada, as an Affiliate College of the University of British Columbia, Carey offers advanced theological training for ministry leaders via our Master of Arts, Master of Divinity and Doctor of Ministry degrees. Over two decades, we've crafted a comprehensive online curriculum coupled with contextual mentorship. Carey is an accredited evangelical seminary in the Baptist tradition. Learn more about us on our website.

Prospective candidates must possess, or be nearing completion of, a relevant doctoral degree, exhibit a passion for theological education and student development, and demonstrate proficiency in online instruction, student oversight, and mentorship. Those adept in an additional discipline will receive special consideration. Essential qualifications include:

- Exceptional command of English (written and verbal) and/or Mandarin
- Experience or training in online andragogy
- Demonstrated ability to write curriculum for both church and academy
- Proven expertise in Christian preaching across cultures
- An active, congregation-centered Christian life, in harmony with the Identity Statement of the Canadian Baptists of Western Canada

A ten-week term teaching a minimum of 6 students offers a minimum stipend of CAD$4,500. Preference is given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents; however, all qualified candidates are encouraged to apply.

For inquiries, reach out to facultysearch@carey-edu.ca. To apply by January 3, 2025, please submit the following at <https://forms.gle/ikvDkgSBou44iyKg9>:

- A cover letter detailing your alignment and potential contributions to Carey's vision for education
- An updated curriculum vitae highlighting your ministerial, pastoral, and professional journey; as well as your instructional experience, potential course offerings, and research interests.
- A course syllabus from a previous teaching experience or a proposed course outline.
- A 500-word or more writing sample of discipleship material that you have produced for the church
- A 5-minute English video presentation, introducing yourself and expressing your enthusiasm for teaching at Carey